Chart 5 Seasonally and exchange rate adjusted net new borrowing by households<sup>3,4</sup>

Chart 6 Annual real growth of household deposits<sup>5</sup>

<sup>3</sup> The significant change in the stock of household overdrafts in April–May, October–November and December mainly reflected the one-off effect in the given period of disbursements to households (e.g. transfers of salaries) brought forward due to variations in working days in early November and May.

<sup>4</sup> The stocks of household foreign currency loans as well as the values of monthly transactions both fell significantly after forint conversion of foreign currency non-mortgage loans. Consequently, the time series containing foreign currency loans transactions will not be seasonally adjusted from January 2016; and seasonally adjusted data published for December 2015 will be contained in the Chart only for the period until December 2015.

<sup>6</sup> The significant change in current account deposits of households in October–November, April–May and December–January reflected the one-off effect of disbursements to households (e.g. transfers of salaries) brought forward due to variations in working days in early November, May and January.

<sup>8</sup> The transaction values published also contain loans granted under the Funding for Growth Scheme introduced by the MNB. The details of the programme launched on 1 June 2013 are available on the MNB's website at the following link.
